TRUMP'S INCREASE IN EXECUTION TALK THIS YEAR

President Donald Trump's recent focus on executions and the death penalty stems from a series of high-profile policy announcements, campaign vows, and a major military justice controversy in October 2026.

1. The Controversy Over Livestreaming a Military Execution

The issue became a focal point of national debate due to the scheduled December 3 execution of Nidal Hasan, the former Army psychiatrist convicted of killing 13 people at Fort Hood in 2009. BBC +2

- The Livestream Plan: In early October 2026, Defense Secretary Pete Hegseth announced that the Pentagon would publicly livestream Hasan's execution by firing squad to act as a "strong deterrent". Trump initially gave his absolute approval to the idea. Death Penalty Informat... +2
- The Reversal: Following immense bipartisan backlash, global condemnation, and opposition from religious leaders, Trump officially canceled the livestream plans on October 15, 2026. He stated on social media that while he believed it served as a deterrent, "many very good and well-meaning people would rather not watch him die". The execution will proceed privately. Reuters +3

TRUMP TEASING LIVE EXECUTION

President Donald Trump canceled the plan to publicly livestream the execution of Fort Hood shooter Nidal Malik Hasan following widespread bipartisan backlash, international condemnation, and public opposition. Reuters +2

Key Details of the Decision

- The Original Proposal: Defense Secretary Pete Hegseth initially announced that the military's December 3, 2026, firing-squad execution of Maj. Nidal Hasan—convicted of killing 13 people at Fort Hood, Texas, in 2009—would be broadcast via a public livestream. Reuters +2
- The Reversal: On October 15, 2026, President Trump posted on Truth Social that the execution would still proceed by firing squad, "but this event will not be streamed," stating that many well-meaning people would rather not watch it. NBC News
- Public & Political Backlash: An ABC News/Washington Post/Ipsos poll showed that 80% of Americans opposed livestreaming the execution. Opposition came from lawmakers across the political spectrum—including Vice President JD Vance, who stated he would not watch it—as well as military generals, religious leaders like the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops, and human rights groups. BBC +4
- In-Person Attendance: While the public broadcast was scrapped, Trump noted that immediate family members of the victims would still be allowed to view the execution in person if they choose to do so. The Guardian +1

TRUMP & VIOLENCE INCREASING

Trump described in gory detail the death of a soldier in front of his wife at his STATE OF UNION ADDRESS 2026.

The user is referring to Donald Trump's February 2026 State of the Union Address, where he went into intense, graphic detail regarding a specific violent crime while the victim's grieving family was seated in the congressional gallery.

In that address, Trump highlighted the case of an individual who had been brutally murdered, explicitly describing the physical violence and the scene of the crime to the assembled lawmakers and a live national television audience. The victim's widow sat directly in the gallery as these details were read aloud.

The Strategic and Political Objectives

Trump's decision to recount these explicit details with the family present served three core political functions:

- Creating a "Moral Imperative" for the Death Penalty: The primary legislative goal of the 2026 address was to pressure Congress into passing a sweeping expansion of federal capital punishment. By making the description of the crime as raw and distressing as possible, Trump sought to frame the issue not as a complex legal debate, but as a clear-cut moral necessity, arguing that such actions demand immediate execution.
- Neutralizing Political Opposition: Seating a grieving widow directly in the room creates a highly charged environment where political opponents cannot easily counter

“IN HIS OWN NAME” TRUMP

President Donald Trump’s widespread practice of naming or rebranding public assets, infrastructure, and government programs after himself represents an unprecedented push for immediate personal branding and legacy-building by a sitting U.S. president. The Week +2

While American political tradition has long dictated that public monuments, buildings, and honors are bestowed posthumously or long after a leader leaves office, Trump’s approach breaks with these norms. Observers, historians, and political analysts attribute this trend to several distinct factors: Wikipedia +2

1. Extending a Lifelong Commercial Brand into Politics

- Real Estate & Business Roots: Long before entering politics, Trump built his global business empire around his personal surname—applying "Trump" to skyscrapers, hotels, golf courses, steaks, and educational ventures. Facebook +1
- Merging Brand with Civic Power: Analysts note that he approaches public office with the same mindset as commercial real estate development, treating government facilities, infrastructure projects, and national programs as extensions of his personal brand. Yale Insights +1

- Not Waiting for History: Unlike traditional statesmen who rely on historians and future generations to cement their legacy, Trump has explicitly operated on the premise of claiming credit and cementing his footprint in real time. The Atlantic +1
- Visibly "Leaving a Mark": During his second term, the administration has aggressively integrated his name, signature, and likeness across diverse federal touchpoints—ranging from federal building banners and park passes to military designations, currency signatures, and agency titles. 3. Cultivating a Populist Movement and "Cult of Personality"

- Symbol of Ownership: Supporters often view the renaming and branding efforts as symbols of strong nationalist leadership, anti-establishment disruption, and a tangible way to stamp "America First" policies directly onto civic spaces.
- Political Loyalty and Signatures: State and federal allies (such as local lawmakers renaming bridges, stretches of highway, and airports) frequently push these measures to signal alignment and political loyalty to the president. Business Insider +2

THE GOLDEN AGE

President Donald Trump's extensive use of gold accents, gilded finishes, and gold-themed branding across government property represents a direct integration of his lifelong commercial aesthetic into the federal government. The Guardian +1

Throughout his career in real estate and entertainment, Trump has treated gold as the ultimate symbol of wealth, power, and high status. During his second administration, this preference has expanded from his private properties (like the Mar-a-Lago Grand Ballroom and Trump Tower) directly onto the nation's civic stage. Business Insider +1

Observers, architectural critics, and administration officials point to several core reasons for this overarching theme:

1. Merging a Commercial "Midas Touch" with Public Office

- The Luxury Brand Identity: For decades, the Trump brand has relied heavily on 24-karat gold plating to signal luxury. By carrying this over into federal spaces, Trump treats government offices and national landmarks not as static historical monuments, but as high-profile showcases for a specific vision of American opulence. ISRAEL GEOFENCING

The Israeli Ministry of Foreign Affairs did not physically target or restrict churches; rather, it launched a digital marketing campaign that aimed to "geofence" every major Christian church and college across the American Southwest. RS Responsible Statecraft

According to public Foreign Agents Registration Act (FARA) filings submitted in late September 2025, the Israeli government contracted a California-based marketing firm called Show Faith by Works to execute what they called "the largest Christian Church Geofencing Campaign in U.S. History". NOAHIDE PERSECUTION IMMINENT

Christian concerns regarding the "Noahide Congress" scheduled for November 2–6, 2026, do not stem from a meeting of the U.S. Congress, but rather from the First International Congress of Noahides taking place at the Seven Arches Hotel in Jerusalem. Noahide World Center +1

This global event, hosted by the Jerusalem-based organization Brit Olam (the Noahide World Center), aims to officially establish a unified, international Noahide movement. It includes drafting a founding charter, setting up continental councils, and establishing an international rabbinical court (Beit Din). YouTube · Lion of Judah +2

The primary reasons evangelical and eschatological (end-times) Christians are expressing concern over this November event involve the fundamental definition of the Noahide Laws and their application to Christian theology:

1. The Theological Definition of "Idolatry"

THE TYPES OF RIGHTEOUSNESS

From Christian Theological Paradigms to the Noahide Framework

Divine vs. Human Righteousness

DIVINE (in God) RIGHTEOUSNESS

- A right standing with God granted entirely as a free gift.
- Imputed (credited) to a person externally through faith.
- Rests entirely on the sinless perfection and work of Christ.
- Transforms legal status permanently from condemned to justified.

HUMAN (ACTIVE) RIGHTEOUSNESS

- Morality and obedience generated through personal effort.
- Earned through willpower, moral codes, or religious law.
- Flawed and limited by standard human weakness and fallibility.
- Establishes temporary civil order and social merit, but cannot save.

Classical Theological Frameworks

Luther's Two Kinds

Divides righteousness into Passive Righteousness (received purely from Christ through faith) and Active Righteousness (the outward fruits of love and service to neighbors).

Positional vs. Practical

Positional Righteousness is the permanent legal standing of a believer as adopted by God. Practical Righteousness is the ongoing, daily process of moral growth.

Hebrew Relational View

The concept of Tzedakah focuses on living out right relationships, justice, and humility with God and society, rather than abstract legal or philosophical perfection.

The Noahide Framework

CHASSID UMOT HAOLAM (RIGHTEOUS GENTILE)

- A non-Jew who consciously observes the Seven Universal Laws of Noah.
- Righteousness is attained through concrete, divinely commanded actions.
- Requires proper intent: laws must be kept because God commanded them via Moses.
- Grants non-Jews a direct, valued share in the World to Come (Olam Ha-Ba).

THE SEVEN COMMANDMENTS

1. Establish courts of justice
2. Prohibit blasphemy
3. Prohibit idolatry
4. Prohibit illicit sexual relationships
5. Prohibit murder
6. Prohibit theft
7. Prohibit eating flesh torn from a living animal

Theological Comparison Matrix

Attribute	Divine (Alien) Righteousness	Human (Active) Righteousness	Noahide Righteousness
Primary Context	Christian Theology (Pauline/Reformation)	Secular Ethics & Civil Morality	Torah/Rabbinic Law for the Nations
How Attained	Gift of grace; imputed by faith in Christ's work.	Personal willpower, social conformity, or ethics.	Conscious fulfillment of the 7 Laws of Noah.
Core Motive	Gratitude for salvation already received.	Social approval, legal compliance, or self-merit.	Recognition of God's sovereignty & Mosaic command.
Ultimate Goal	Justification before God & Eternal Salvation.	Temporary societal peace and personal pride.	Integrating godliness into the World to Come.

Exposed by the Law, Covered by the Judge

The Courtroom of Our Mind

- The Ultimate Exposure:
  Imagine standing in a packed courtroom where your private thoughts, hidden failures, and secret sins are broadcast publicly on a massive screen.

- The Human Reflex:
  When exposed, our instinct is to present a moral resume. Like the Noahide framework, we try to point to legal codes, courts of justice, and human efforts to secure our defense.

- The Exhausting Treadmill:
  Deep down, we know human effort is insufficient. Our moral performance cannot survive the cross-examination of a Holy God.

Romans 3:19 states:

"Now we know that whatever the law says, it says to those who are under the law, so that every mouth may be silenced and the whole world held accountable to God."

Key Meaning & Context

- Universal Guilt: The passage concludes the Apostle Paul's argument that no human being—whether Jewish or Gentile—can claim moral perfection or justify themselves before God.
- Purpose of the Law: The law does not save or excuse people; instead, it exposes human sin, removes all self-righteous excuses ("silences every mouth"), and proves the whole world guilty.
- Transition to the Gospel: This verse sets up the immediate transition in Romans 3:20–24, which explains that humanity is justified freely by God's grace through faith in Jesus Christ rather than through works of the law.

The Courtroom of Public Opinion

The court of public opinion is the informal process of using media, social platforms, and public debate to influence how people perceive a person, company, or legal case

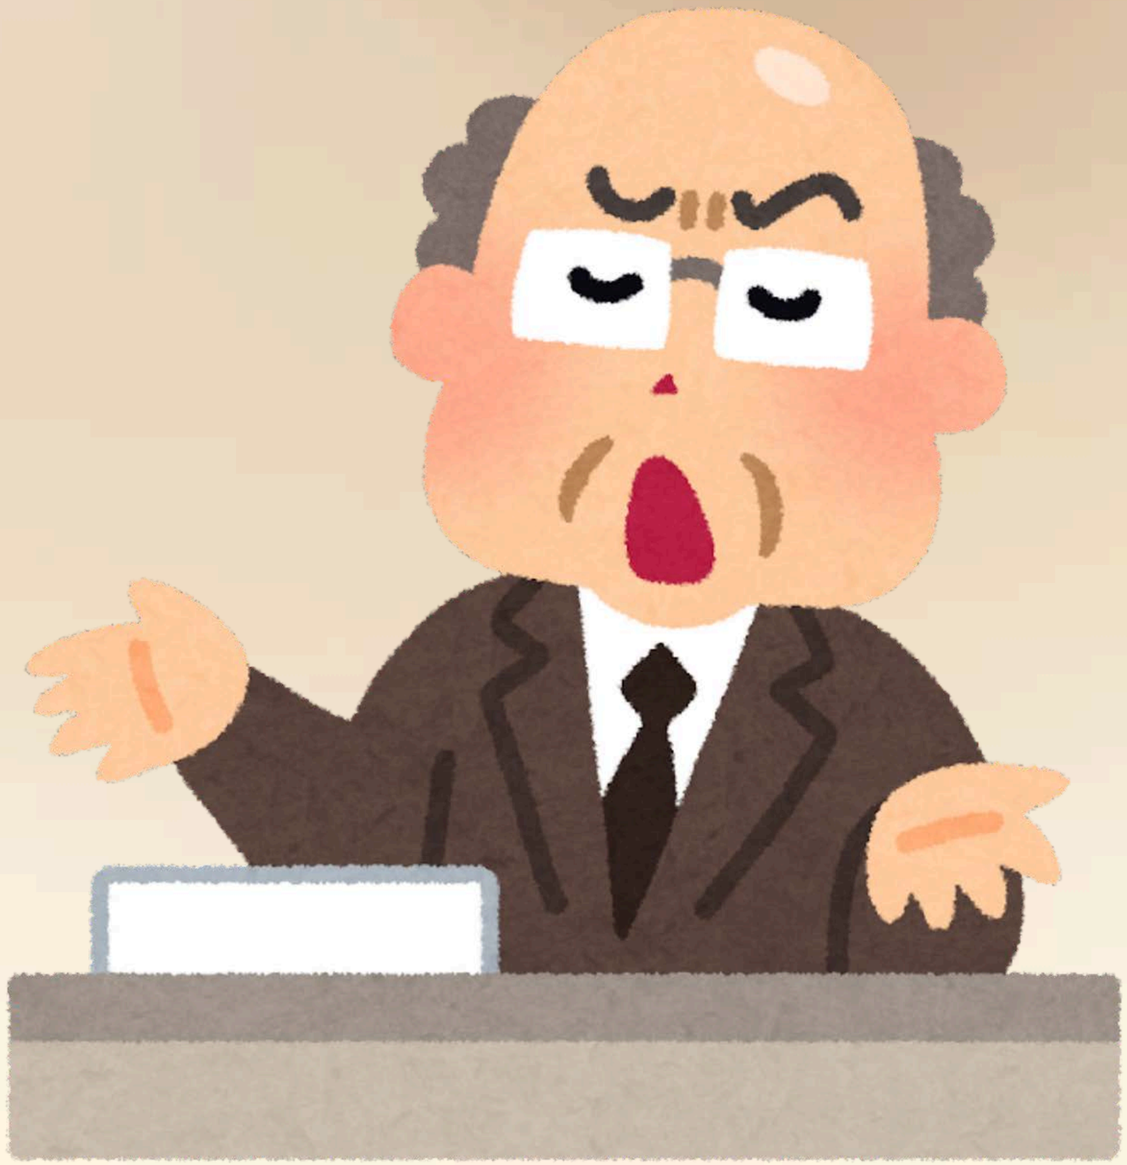

Key Characteristics

- No Formal Rules: It operates without formal rules of evidence, the right to counsel, cross-examination, or the Fifth Amendment protection against self-incrimination.
- Trial by Media: Sensationalized news, leaks, press conferences, and online commentary can shape public guilt or innocence long before a formal trial begins.
- Real Consequences: Even if a person is cleared in a formal court of law, negative public perception can cause severe damage to their reputation, career, finances, or business.
- Strategic Use in Law: Defense and prosecuting attorneys sometimes use public relations strategies, media leaks, or press statements to pressure opponents, counter adverse publicity, or encourage favorable settlements.

The Indictment: Every Mouth Silenced

- Romans 3:19:
  '...so that every mouth may be silenced and the whole world held accountable to God.'
- The Silenced Mouth:
  In ancient courts, a defendant whose mouth was stopped had no legal arguments left to offer. The prosecution's evidence was completely undeniable.
- The Mirror vs. The Ladder:
  The law (whether Mosaic or universal Noahide rules) was never given as a ladder to heaven. It was given as a mirror to show us our dirt and act as God's prosecutor.

The Turning Point: Falling Short

- Romans 3:23:
  '...for all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God.'
- Historical Illustration: The Ancient Roman Trial
  In Rome, an accused citizen might wear a bleached white toga ('toga candida') to declare their purity. Yet if the prosecutor found a single deep stain beneath it, their civic righteousness collapsed, exposing them to banishment.
- The Grand Canyon Analogy:
  If two people try to jump the Grand Canyon, it doesn't matter if one jumps 5 feet and the other jumps 15 feet—both fall short and plunge to the bottom. Relative moral superiority cannot bridge the gap to a perfect God.

The Verdict: Covered by the Judge

- The Divine Paradox:

Human courts are corrupt if they let the guilty walk free. Yet God remains entirely just while legally declaring the guilty righteous (Romans 3:26).

- Historical Illustration: The Code of Justinian & Royal Subjugation

Under early legal codices, a king could issue an imperial decree of 'Adoption' over a condemned prisoner. By throwing his royal, unblemished seal-ring and cloak over the criminal, the law could no longer look at the crime—it could only see the king's covering.

- The Propitiation (Hilasterion):

Christ's blood acts as the 'Hilasterion'—the legal lid that covers the broken law inside the Ark of the Covenant. The Judge steps down from the bench, steps into the prisoner's box, and covers you in His own flawless record.

Stepping Out of the Prisoner's Box

- Lay down your exhausting self-defense.
- Stop trying to establish a self-made righteousness through performance.
- Silence your mouth and accept the free gift of Divine Righteousness.

You walk out of the courtroom free—not because you proved your innocence, but because your Covering is absolute. You know who you are in Christ. Your salvation is secure no matter what is exposed to the world!

CATHY'S Dream

I remember from the dream how horrifying I felt when I was exposed to the world. The only place I could rest was IN JESUS.

The world was sinking sand.

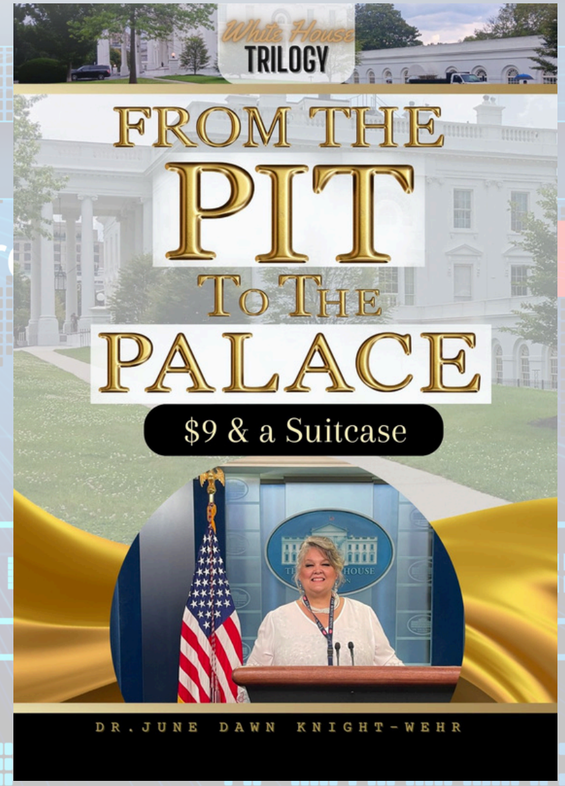

Exposure is coming to the church. Who will they turn to when they are shamed publicly?

Fiber for the CYBERDREAM

Given to Dr. June Knight-Wehr in 2021

I am warning you, preparing you so you can prepare your house. And this is very serious, which is what's going to lead to the final stages of biblical prophecy. The definition of a cyber attack is an attempt by hackers to damage or destroy a computer network or system.

I want you to focus on the word system. Because we know that the New Apostolic Reformation, which is NAR, wants to destroy the Christianity system.
That is their whole purpose.

That is what their name is. New Apostolic Reformation. Reformation.

Reform the nation. Reformation. This is all in my books.

They hate the word Christianity. They hate the old order. They hate the whole system.

So they're going to tear it down. The, what do you call it, the Great Reset.

All of this cyber attack is a part of the Great Reset.

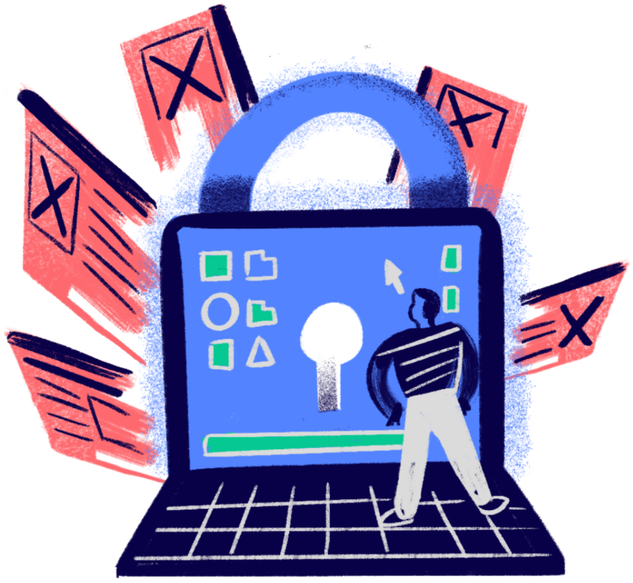

But why a cyber attack? So the beast can have this world and finish out his agenda. He is blood thirsty for the saints.

That's what the Bible says. But why destroy Christianity? Well, number one, so no one will believe anymore. They want to ruin our credibility to witness.

They want to discredit Christianity and mock God's image. They want to get her, I mean get her, to destroy families, God's natural creation, his strength. The beast, and why are they going to do that? Because the beast wants to be there to pick them up.

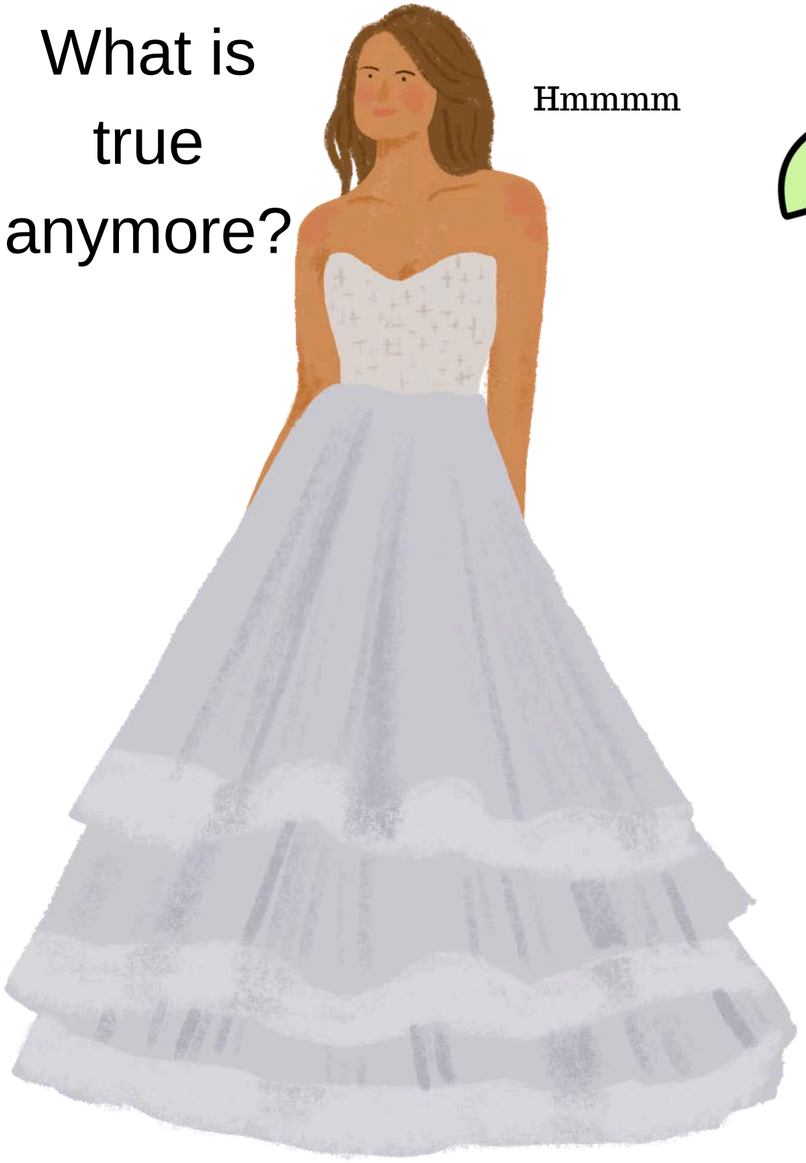

It's here. And why is this happening? It's to bring confusion to the church. The church needs to go back to the foundation because we got it wrong.

This is what they're going to be telling people to convince the weak Christians that what they grew up on was not true. How many YouTube channels do this? Red, white, and black. Freedom Farce.

Constantly tear up old order of Christianity.

What is true anymore?

Hmmmm

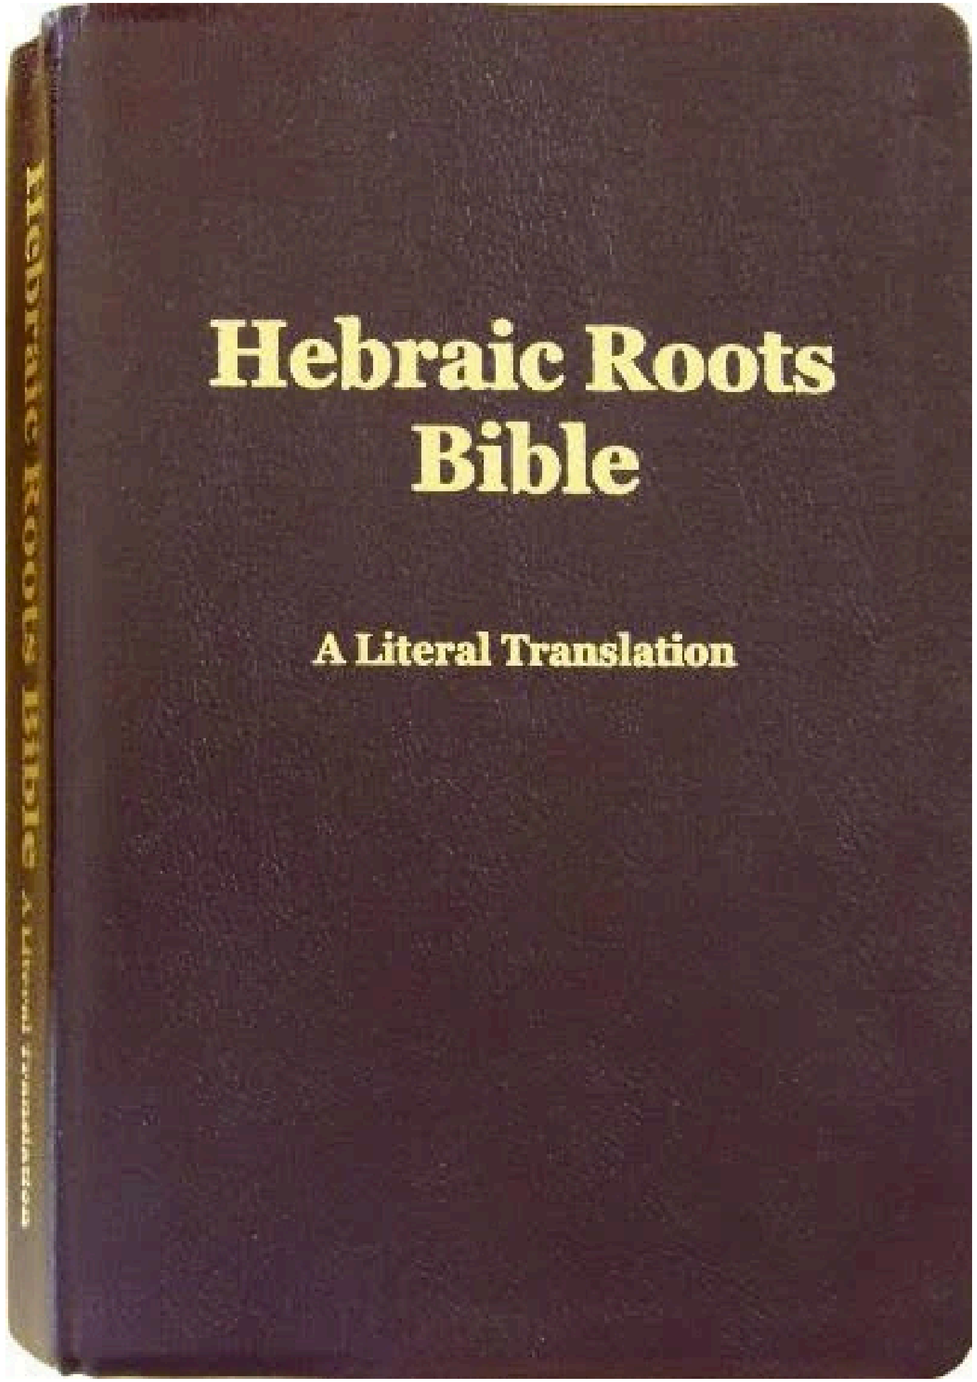

He's bringing confusion to the church because he wants everybody to see us fall.

He wants to show that their foundation is the right foundation and we all had it wrong. And to convince the weak Christians that what they grew up on was not true. And we already have a bunch of people that feel that way that because they was attached to the New Apostolic Reformation and now they see what was wrong with it and they feel like that their whole foundation is shaken because of what they learned from the New Apostolic Reformation.

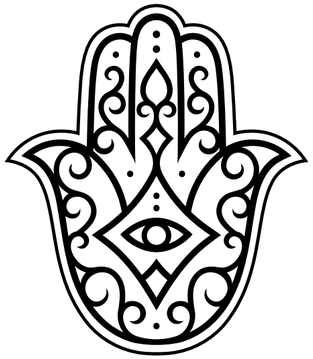

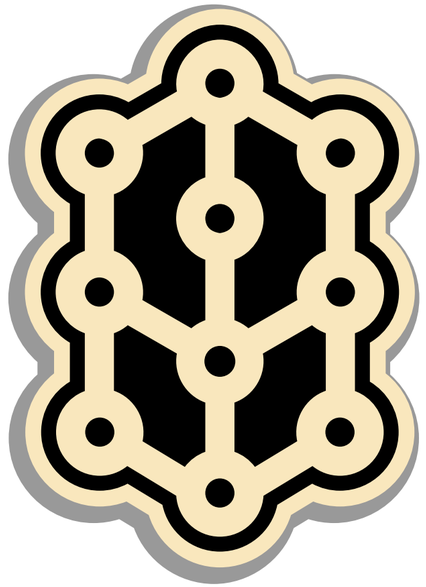

But the ultimate tactic that they have used to set up and prepare for this attack coming is the Hebrew Roots Movement.

The Hebrew Roots Movement, where they have taken people back to the Hebrew Roots, back to the Judeo Foundation, which they try to say Judeo-Christian Foundation, and that's why they're changing the country's foundation, because they say really, you know, we left out the Judeo Roots IN OUR HISTORY. But anyways, the Hebrew Roots is a part of this to bring confusion to the church about who they ARE.

The Judeo-Christian LIE

White Supremacy & Destroying our Nation

- White is not skin
- It's the KJV of Christianity (the white version - European)
- The Christian founding of our country

President Trump

- Has not renounced white supremicists
- Blonde, very white, wealthy & arrogant
- Rude, vile, destroys people w/mouth
- Church says he is ANOINTED OF GOD.
  - They endorse his behaviors and actions
- He cusses our God
- Says he is the "Chosen One"
- Portrays himself as Jesus many times
- Thus the world blames Christians!

So to them, they see us as nothing but a bunch of hypocrites. So when they expose the sins of the church, it will be to mock Christianity, to mock God, and to mock our version of God.

See, you have to understand this because all of these religions say God.

They all serve a God. But with Christianity, Christianity, we say we serve the God who is supreme to all their gods. Their gods are little gods.

We have the big God and his name is Jesus. We say that the only door to heaven is through one way, which is the name of Jesus. Okay.

We have the only way. So thus, we're considered white supremacy.

I'm the

CHOSEN ONE

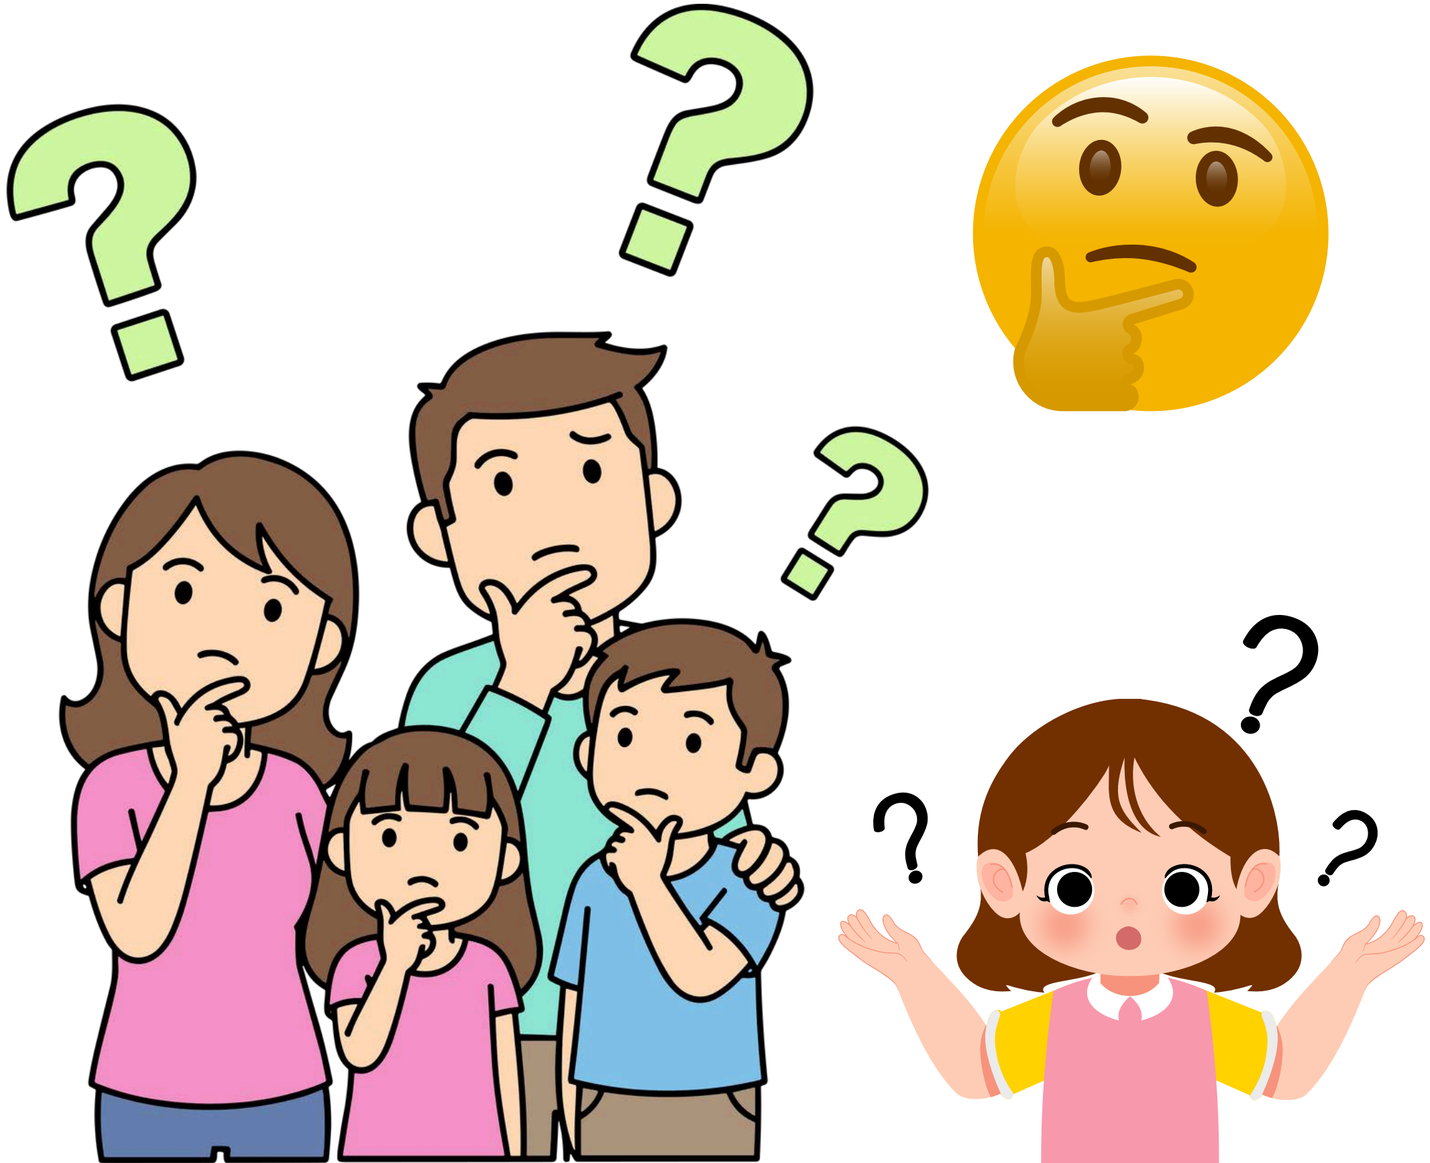

Blasphemy!

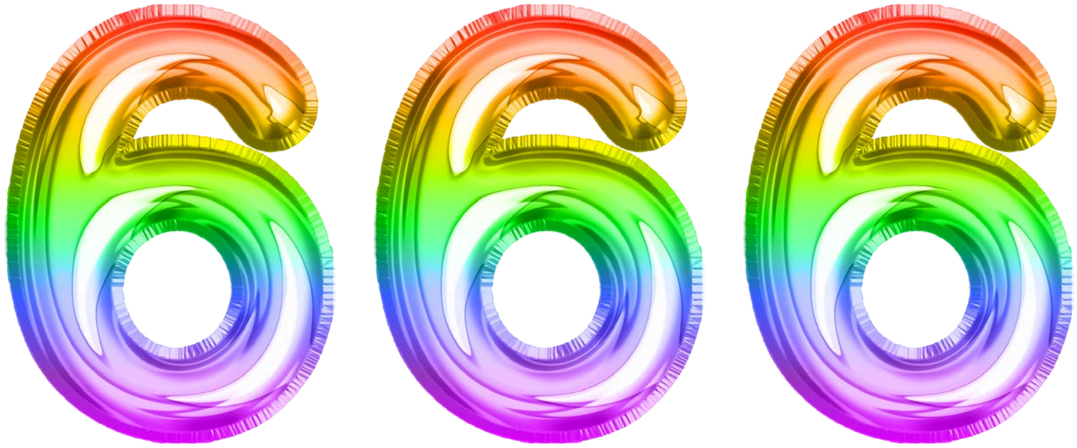

Why would Christians partner with this?

We're so confused now about Christianity...

I hope you understand now how and what they're thinking when they want to destroy America. And why else? Because they want to rise the outlaws.

Noahide Laws

You know, I call this group the outlaws. Okay. Because why are they rising this? Because they want the moral religion.

The moral religion is Judaism.

This is what they want to say by rising this group up. They want to say that they are the moral group.

The Seven Laws of Noah are called "moral laws" because

Judaism views them as the universal baseline of ethical behavior required for any human society to survive, function, and remain civilized

In Short….

- The cyber attack IS COMING
- To expose Christians & their sins
- To defame Jesus, Christianity, and America White Supremacy
- Now through AI can organize this takedown
- Show Black Mirror has examples
- There will be nowhere to turn, everyone will turn against the “scourge of society”.
- Social Media will be key in all of this (to notify your friends, etc.)
- To cause others to not trust in your word, witness or testimony
    - Bible says in the last days we will WIN THEM BY THE WORD OF OUR TESTIMONY (Satan wants to shut it down)
- Lose credibility with COURT OF PUBLIC OPINION
- To destroy the last true IMAGE OF GOD
- For people to lose hope of salvation & to turn Christians against God because they can’t suffer THEIR OWN IMAGE. Pride.

YOUR RIGHTEOUSNESS IS AS FILTHY RAGS

Romans 3:10

As it is written, There is none righteous, no, not one:

You cannot be perfect enough - noone can live up to the law

🤔 FINAL POINTS

WHEN YOU SEE YOUR FELLOW BROTHERS & SISTERS GOING THROUGH THIS, PRAY FOR THEM THAT THEY WILL BE ABLE TO ENDURE WHAT'S COMING. WE NEED SUPERNATURAL STRENGTH TO STAND!

🙏 Don't PUSH THEM DOWN, pray for them! 🙏

🤔 FINAL POINTS

WHEN YOU ARE CALLED OUT, DON'T SPEAK, BUT GO TO GOD IN PRAYER AND REPENT EVEN IF YOU THINK YOU DIDN'T DO IT. IT MAY BE GOD DOING IT TO SHOW YOU DECEPTION.

THE GOAL THROUGH THIS IS TO CAUSE HIS CHURCH TO BE TRIED LIKE FIRE, PURIFIED AND CLEANSED.

🙏 At least address it to God, then repent! 🙏

🤔FINAL POINTS

The Lord wants you to know that your day of GLORIFICATION is upon you. Trust in the Lord. Hold your tongue and hold on to Him! Your righteousness could not have prevented it. It is their agenda to tear down God to the citizens of the world and to go towards the Satanic propaganda. Which god will you hold on to in the fire? Which one will you trust? This will divide.

Choose this day whom you will serve
